RECOMMENDATION

I would like to recommend Mr. Benoît Kubiak, a young Frenchman from Autun, and Ms. Purvi Makwana, a young Indian woman from Mumbai. They are members of the NGO Avenir Climat (Futur Climate).

Both have started a long journey around Europe and Asia to meet with people addressing climate change and to connect them together. They would like to learn how the world can face climate change, and how people with different culture can cooperate on this very challenging issue. They will meet individuals and organisations, governmental or non-governmental, cities, companies, scientists, and ask them what they have seen, what they expect, what they are doing, what should be done in their view.

They will witness climate change in everyday's life, see how people are coping and they will report on their website and through lecturing in schools. They will be travelling for one year through two continents without using airplanes.

It seems to me this is a nice and useful project which we should support and encourage. I would be grateful to authorities of friendly countries to help these two courageous young people in their endeavour. Thank you.
